
Collection Number: 7779

Division of Rare and Manuscript Collections
Cornell University Library

Contact Information:
Division of Rare and Manuscript Collections
2B Carl A. Kroch Library
Cornell University
Ithaca, NY 14853
(607) 255-3530
Fax: (607) 255-9524
rareref@cornell.edu
http://rmc.library.cornell.edu

Compiled by: RMC Staff
Date completed: October 2012
EAD encoding: Anne Jones, April 2012
Date modified: Anne Jones, April 2013

© 2012 Division of Rare and Manuscript Collections, Cornell University Library

DESCRIPTIVE SUMMARY

Title: Collection Number:
7779
Creator:
Wood, Edward D.(Edward Davis)
Quantity:
Forms of Material:
Books, Magazines, Print outs, Placards, Poster.
Repository:
Division of Rare and Manuscript Collections, Cornell University Library
Abstract:
Pulp novels written anonymously and under various pseudonyms of the legendary psycho-sexual author and film-maker, Ed Wood, Jr., collected by pulp scholar Robert Legault (1950 to 2008). In addition, magazines, reference materials, posters and other ephemera.
Language:
Collection material in English

BIOGRAPHICAL NOTE
Edward Davis Wood, Jr. (October 10, 1924 to December 10, 1978), better known as Ed Wood, was an American screenwriter, director, producer, actor, author, and editor, who made a number of low-budget genre films and published pulp novels under various names. Ed Wood's fiction is as strange, idiosyncratic and out of step with his times and mores as his infamous movies. His novels inter-splice erotic segments with lengthy philosophical, sociological and psychological discourse. Rudolph Grey's biography "Nightmare of Ecstasy: The Life and Art of Edward D. Wood, Jr." (1992) and Tim Burton's biopic "Ed Wood," which earned two Academy Awards, brought attention to his life and work. He died in 1978 of an alcohol-induced heart attack and has since achieved cult status.

COLLECTION DESCRIPTION
Pulp novels written anonymously and under various pseudonyms of the legendary psycho-sexual author and film-maker, Ed Wood, Jr., collected by pulp scholar Robert Legault (1950 to 2008). In addition, magazines, reference materials, posters and other ephemera. Also, an original one sheet poster for the 1953 film, "Glen or Glenda?" directed by Ed Wood, Jr. in his feature film debut. Originally titled "I Changed My Sex," the film has maintained a solid cult following over the decades despite its poor reviews due to Wood's decidedly distinctive style and z-budget production values. The aim of the film's producer, George Weiss, was to capitalize on the story Christina Jorgensen, who in 1952 became the first man widely known to undergo sex reassignment surgery. The film's first half guides the viewer down a crooked path that includes multiple narration techniques, BDSM (bondage/discipline/sadomasochist) pornography, and a buffalo stampede in order to convey a story about a man named Glen who wishes to become a transvestite, struggling to gain acceptance from his girlfriend. The second half, added largely at the demand of the distributor to include sex change in the content, is about a pseudohermaphrodite named Alan who fights his way through World War II in women's underwear, finally returning from the conflict to have the surgery he/she has always desired.

SUBJECTS Names:

INFORMATION FOR USERS
Cite As:
Ed Wood, Jr. collection, #7779. Division of Rare and Manuscript Collections, Cornell University Library.

NOTES
Collecting Program: Human Sexuality Collection.
CONTAINER LIST

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Date</th>
<th>Description</th>
<th>Container</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1963</td>
<td>Lace Drag&lt;br&gt;By: Edward D. Wood, Jr.&lt;br&gt;Publisher: Raven Books, North Hollywood&lt;br&gt;[Wood’s first novel]</td>
<td>Box 1</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1965</td>
<td>Killer in Drag&lt;br&gt;By: Edward D. Wood, Jr.&lt;br&gt;Publisher: Imperial Books/Star News Co., Union City, NJ&lt;br&gt;[same as Black Lace Drag (Raven, 1963), Wood’s first novel. Also printed as Black Lace Drag (Private Edition, 1967) and The Twilight Land (Europa, 1967) credited to Sheri Blue.]</td>
<td>Box 1</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1965</td>
<td>The Homosexual Generation&lt;br&gt;By: Edward D. Wood, Jr.&lt;br&gt;Pseudonym: Ken Worthy&lt;br&gt;Publisher: imperial Books/L.S. Publications Corp., New York&lt;br&gt;[purported socio-sexual study of the leanings of the current generation. Generally derogatory in nature. Page 105: &quot;A fair sample of what is happening to the man-woman relationship can be seen in the movie, ‘The Knack – and How to Get it.’ Like, ‘Goodbye, Charley,’ and ‘Some Like It Hot,’ this is another thinly disguised homosexual movie in which a young girl goes about begging one of three young men to rape her. The men show no interest whatsoever, and the homosexual element is brought out clearly when the leading character says of another male, ‘I want him to come here and live with us. His name is Ricky. He’s beautifully big – six foot three – and he can teach both of us some tricks.’ All the male characters in the movie have hair curling around their collars; all wear their hair brushed forward in a pompadour and all are very obviously interested only in males to the bewilderment of the girl who is trying to get herself raped.” Page 174: &quot;So there is a ‘cure’ for homosexuality – and it rests entirely with the parents!”]</td>
<td>Box 1</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1966</td>
<td>Mask of Evil</td>
<td>Box 1</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Page 94: "The intruder was going deeper, penetrating further and further into her sensitive, exquisite tenderness. She moaned and moved, trying to escape the sweet pain, yet now quite wanting not to do so. Her movements only made the pain go deeper. 'Oh, no! No.' She moaned. 'Stop. Please stop. Don’t stop! It’s good. It hurts, Ohh-h-h-h-h!'

The pressure on her became unbearably good. Her senses were reeling. Colors were whirling and swirling under her closed eyelids. Then suddenly, sweetly, inexplicably, she was past the pain and was moving and twisting in harmony with the youth. Suddenly, she knew she had to scream. Her lips parted without volition and a harsh, rough sound poured from her...At the same time the young man’s breathing became jagged, cutting litany. Infinity became finite and stood still."
kept waiting too long already. They hadn’t come down to the cellar just to sit around contemplating their own belly buttons. Their whole idea was to contemplate someone else’s belly button.”] Eric Stanton cvr art?

1966

Side Show Siren
By: Edward D. Wood, Jr.

ges: 190

Publisher: Corinth Publications, San Diego

[Rudolph Grey detailed: "When Karl the Abominable Snowman escapes from a carnival, a series of gruesome murders ensues. Change from the original title Naked Bones as more marketable for the paperback trade, Side-Show Siren is possibly the first of Wood’s carnival novels. It resembles films like The Ape (with Boris Karloff, Monogram, 1940) and Circus of Horrors (AIP, 1960). The character of Jinx Dixon, a cowboy sharpshooter, is modeled after Wood’s close friend, Kenne Duncan." One-time Republic Pictures contract actor, Kenne "Horsecock" Duncan was, according to Grey, "known and billed as ‘the meanest man in the movies.’"]

1967

A Half World
By: Edward D. Wood, Jr.
Pseudonym: Michael Sharon

ges: 159

Publisher: Pad Library, Agoura, CA

1967

Black Lace Drag
By: Edward D. Wood, Jr.

ge: 160

Publisher: Private Edition Books, Canoga Park

1967

Bloodiest Sex Crimes in History
By: Edward D. Wood, Jr.
Pseudonym: Spenser and West

ges: 160

Publisher: Pad Library/Nite Time, Agoura, CA

[in the style of Spenser and West, "sexological" studies of vampirism, murder, necrophilia, prostitution, and contains a glossary of terminology. Page 61: "This is not to suggest that ALL or even MOST morticians are Necrophiles. It merely supposes that if one is inclined toward the Necrophile practice – the choice of being a Mortician is logical.”] read, excerpt, what is up with catalog numbers corresponding to other pub. companies?

1967

Confessions of a Hollywood Starlet
By: Edward D. Wood, Jr.
Pseudonym: Spenser and West

Pages: 192
Publisher: Cougar Publications, Los Angeles
[Not mentioned elsewhere in Wood literature, this book contains many Woodian hallmarks, i.e. gratuitous ellipses and Hollywood sleaze, however the writing is slightly more sober than usual. The story concerns casting couch shenanigans, with character names such as Jake Palerack, Wolfgang von Klienshimdt, Fritz Dykeman, and Beverly Fuller.]

1967

Death of a Transvestite
By: Edward D. Wood, Jr.

Pages: 192
Publisher: Pad Library/Nite Time, Agoura, CA
[the follow-up to Black Lace Drag, concerns contract killer Glen/Glenda on death row who demands to be allowed to die in drag. Told in a Gothic epistolary style via clippings, confessions, etc. Considered one of Wood's finest works.]

1967

Devil Girls
By: Edward D. Wood, Jr.

Pages: 192
Publisher: Pad Library, Agoura, CA
[Rudolph Grey writes: "In the small town of Almanac, Texas, Sheriff Buck Rhodes tangles with drug smugglers and teenage gangs, including the wild girl gang, The Chicks. A series of sexual liaisons and violence culminate in their tragic end." David Hayes qualified, "Owing chiefly to the year it was printed, Devil Girls stands as the testament to Wood's writing in the Golden Age. Low on smut, but high on intrigue and scandal, the novel moves along at a brisk pace and creates characters that are both believable and interesting (aside from Wood's usual stereotypical bad girls)."]

1967

Drag Trade
By: Edward D. Wood, Jr.

Pages: 159
Publisher: Triumph News Co., Inc., Van Nuys
[Page 38: "But come as it may, for the first time in his life he felt like a human being. Before, with only the panties and the half slip he hadn't been quite sure. He knew he..."
liked the feeling of the clothes then, but once he had dressed completely as a girl, he knew it was the life he must lead. None of their hair would ever grow to any length, but wigs took care of that small problem. And being young they taught him just how far his bust line should extend.
He love sweaters, the soft cashmeres and angoras...and he liked to see the breasts sticking out in front of him...but for his size and age he was limited to the lines of a teenager.

1967

es One to Know One
By: Edward D. Wood, Jr.

ges: 191

Publisher: Pad Library/Imperial, Agoura, CA
[excerpt]

1967

y Risk
By: Edward D. Wood, Jr.

ges: 192

Publisher: Pad Library, Agoura, CA
[Grey writes: "Espionage, Wood style, involving hard communists, sabotage at a movie set, and hard-loving, hard smoking and hard drinking Col. Harvey Tate." Hayes:
"This is another classic case of Wood's real-world experience (minus the freaky sex) shoved smack dab into a smut novel." The plot surrounds terrorists murdering employees at a government operated low-budget film company, much like Autonetics Aviation, a company
Wood had briefly made films for in the past.]

1967 fe of the Alcoholic

By: Edward D. Wood, Jr.
Pseudonym: Johnny J.

ges: 192

Publisher: Griffon Enterprises/Nite Time Books, Beverly Hills
[case histories of boozy sexual encounters, dedication reads: "To those anonymous booze-fighters whose stories are presented in these pages – and to the scores of others, likewise not to be named, who have helped in the preparation of this book. – Johnny J." Book topics include "Early Drinking and Introduction to Sex", "Alcohol as a Sexual Lubricant", "Breakdown of Sexual Inhibitions",
"Rape, Incest and Homosexuality Through Release by Alcohol", and "Housewife Prostitution and Alcohol."]

1967 es Sisters

By: Edward D. Wood, Jr.
Pseudonym: Sheri Blue

ges: 160
Publishers: Europa Books Limited/Pad Library, Los Angeles

[this book is indicative of a bibliographical problem found elsewhere in both the Ed Wood Collection and in the greater adult paperback business. Due to the illegal nature of many publications, tax evasion, reusing old book components for new publications, and ties to more savage legal infractions, companies were constantly starting, collapsing and renaming themselves in a fly-by-night fashion. Therefore we find ourselves with situations like Strange Sisters which has a Pad Library ID# on the cover, yet on the verso of the title page we find the publication credit attributed to Europa Books Limited. Obscured by a fog of criminality it is quite difficult to know where one company ended and another began. It is highly likely that the amalgam of imprints were owned by only a few people. For instance, Michael Thevis of Pendulum was said to have owned 90% of all adult bookstores during the 1970s. Viceroy Books and Private Editions Books shared the same Canoga Park address. See also Bloodiest Sex Crimes in History and It Takes One To Know One for more confusion.]

1967

bia Confidential
By: Edward D. Wood, Jr.
Pseudonym: Emil Moreau
Pages: 159

Publisher: Triumph News Co., Inc., Van Nuys
[A collection of case histories as reported to Emil Moreau, "M. D." Beyond the basic concept, allegedly Wood and the book had nothing to do with the Apostolof film of 1966.]

1967

The Twilight Land
By: Edward D. Wood, Jr.
Pseudonym: Sheri Blue
Pages: 160

Publisher: Europa Books Limited/Pad Library, Los Angeles
[another 1967 reprint of Wood's Black Lace Drag this time under alternate title and pen name. David C. Hayes claims a 1965 edition of The Twilight Land exists as well, though he may be mistaken.]

1967

...After
By: Edward D. Wood, Jr.
Pages: 191

Publisher: Pad Library, Agoura, CA
[Follow-up to Watts...The Difference, more exploits with black nationalists and low-budget filmmakers]
1967

...The Difference
By: Edward D. Wood, Jr.

Pages: 192
Publisher: Pad Library, Agoura, CA
Cover art is signed but tough to read; looks like "Chad Collen"
[a Watts riot exploitation piece, it's rumored that Wood's home was firebombed after the books release. Other stories include death threats from the Black Panthers. Alternate version is said to exist as Burn Baby Burn (1969) by Ray Jones] excerpt/summary

1968

Bye Bye Broadie
By: Edward D. Wood, Jr.

Pages: 157
Publisher: Pendulum Publishers, Los Angeles
Photo Illustrated (b&w)
[another pictorial, this time with stills from a Image 4 motion picture production. Wood biographer Rudolph Grey summarized Broadie, "A peeping tom rapist spies on a group of young women making love in a boarding school. He approaches them and joins in on the action. The man-hating schoolmistress, Mrs. Grundy, discovers the orgy and beats the man to death with her cane. The headmistress then coerces the girls to assist her in burying the body in a nearby pet cemetery. After the burial, a hand appears out of the ground and grabs one of the young girls. The bloodied "corpse" smashes Mrs. Grundy with a shovel, sending her off into eternity. After another young girl falls victim to his revenge, the now blind young man staggers off toward the swamp water. Accompanying photos are only marginally related to the story." Page 105/6: "All any of them wanted to do was get the damned carcass in the ground and get the hell out of there. Time was against them! They had to make the new movement of time aid in their own advantage."

1968

Carnival Piece
By: Edward D. Wood, Jr. Pseudonym: Kathleen Everett

Pages: 160
Publisher: Private Edition Books, Canoga Park
[Kathleen Everett was in fact Wood's wife's maiden name. Akin to Side-Show Siren the novel follows a "murder-at-the-carnival" plot. Grey writes: "Imbroglios concerning carnivals, a murdered dancing girl and her stunning young blonde replacement who attracts the attentions of the local sheriff, the owner of the carnival and Mama Tate, a fat lesbian. Characters include Wheezy the Skeleton, who prefers wine to food; the Geek, another wino who bites] the heads off snakes and chickens; Bertha the 450 pound fat woman; the tattoo man; the magician ("a ham bone lush"); the wolf man who "glues hair on his body everyday while he sniffs the glue and pops heroin in his veins"; and Matty, the female impersonator who does the half-man, half-woman act."

1968

For Love Or Money

By: Edward D. Wood, Jr.
Pseudonym: Arthur Windsor

Pages: 149

Publisher: B. B. Sales Co., New York, NY

Photo Illustrated by Bill New (b&w)

[For Love Or Money originally began as the novel The Sexecutives (1968) by Donald L. Westermier (pseudonym of Edward D. Wood, Jr.). Wood turned the novel into a script named For Love Or Money that was in turn realized by sexploitation director Don A. Davis. As was popular, the film was turned into a Foto-Reader which featured text opposite film stills. The For Love Or Money Foto-Reader is an abridged version of The Sexecutives, with much of Wood's unique syntactical approaches excised, thus rendering, by most accounts, a truly bland affair.]

1968

Hell Chicks

By: Edward D. Wood, Jr.
Pseudonym: N. V. Jason

Pages: 188

Publisher: Private Edition Books, Canoga Park

Cover art signed "H"

[Rudolph Grey wrote: "Ghosted under 'N. V. Jason', Hell Chicks, is one of Wood's most crazed, anarchistic novels. The complete disregard for normal rules of grammar suggest that it was written in one sitting. Unleashed in distorted, alcoholic twists of consciousness, the novel takes girl gangs from his screenplays for The Violent Years and Fugitive Girls to the ne plus ultra of sex and violence. The Hell Chicks are twelve rough tough broads in black leather jackets. Their credo: 'Rules are LAWS and LAWS were meant to be broken.' Hopped up on grass and beer they roar across the countryside on their hogs, raping any man they can get their hands on. Pussy, Pisser, Prancer, Sissy, Syph, Boobie, Cherry and Flame meet their inevitable end in a climactic bloody showdown with the law." Page 82: "The boys of the Chain Gang hit from the north and the girls of the Hell Chicks screamed in from the south. Twenty-four cycles with split mufflers roared their tunes of terror, into the hearts and soul of every passerby. They gunned the exhaust...revved the motor...spit the back-fire flame and noise into anybody who dared brace them. They all screamed like banshees and the words of vulgar sexual atonement intermingled with the screeching of tires as they..."
turned as if on a dime and giving nine cents change." As reported by David Hayes, Hell Chicks marks Wood's turn to hardcore pornography.]

1968

- Thighs
By: Edward D. Wood, Jr.
ges: 156

Publisher: Private Edition Books, Canoga Park
[Hippie sexploitation, cover says "Originally titled Lost Souls Delivered", Wood's personal acronym for LSD. Main characters Adam and Eve.] excerpt

1968

- in the Grass
By: Edward D. Wood, Jr.
ges: 157

Publisher: Pendulum Publishers, Los Angeles
Photo Illustrated (b&w)
[This Wood novelization of a "film" by D-M Productions, Los Angeles, was likely written from scratch and no film was ever produced. Raped in the Grass is a pre-Hearst/SLA Helsinki syndrome psycho-sexual fantasy. The book concerns two American girls who get captured by guerillas in a Central American country. A large amount of sexual and violent torture is unleashed by the guerillas on the girls who desperately want to leave. Yet, by the end of the pictorial, the American girls realize they have found a new home amidst the sexual degradation in Central America. "A guerilla band of near-wild men and one sadistic lesbian capture two young girls on a trip... a trip that either one of them will ever forget." Page 143: "Carlos, on the ground, as he came to, reached for his injured ear. For the moment, he thought he was back raping the girl on the grass. His ear hurt, his eyes opened. He looked at the makeshift table – to the ankles of his Leader, then he knew although his ass was in the grass, he was not with the broad. The Leader was. He needed another drink... He rolled over and could only lick at the remnants of his broken jug. 'More tequila – more tit!'"]

1968

- Sex Museum
By: Edward D. Wood, Jr.
Pseudonym: Jason Nichols
ges: 160

Publisher: Viceroy Books, Canoga Park
[Sex Museum is a retelling of various sexual rites and occurrences throughout history. [Page 81: "The father of our country, the U.S.A., may very well have tried to be just that, the FATHER of our country! He certainly made one hell of an attempt at propagating the race of early Americans to a point where many a colonial mother locked their alluring daughter behind doors when they saw the young militia colonel approaching. George Washington, the first President of the new states of America was a ‘cock-smith’ from the word ‘GO.’

1968

Wounds and Caskets
By: Edward D. Wood, Jr.

Pages: 187
Publisher: Viceroy Books, Canoga Park
[Writing on the intermingling of sex and religion. Page 113: "Harry TURNED the girls ON as he had done all of his adult life. But he TURNED THEM ON with a completely new, foolproof line. ‘The force of evil is within all of us! It is for me to turn that evil out of your souls.’ Then he would open the BOOK at random and read a short paragraph, then put in his own interpretation. None could deny his words because as so many of his predecessors, he was reading them from the BOOK, and that could not be wrong.

1968

The Erotic Spy
By: Edward D. Wood, Jr.
Pseudonym: Abbott Smith

Pages: 157
Publisher: Pendulum Publishers, Los Angeles
Photo Illustrated (b&w)
[Pendulum Pictorials was a series akin to the Olympic Foto-Reader, wherein text was accompanied by photo stills from a film. As far as the Pendulum Pictorials go, it is highly doubtful that any moving picture ever existed and rather the still photographs were taken with the purpose of illustrating the book. The Erotic Spy featured the character "The Gold Girl" who was also in the film Orgy of the Dead, played by Pat Barrington. A note from the Editor: "Gold Girl is one of the most exciting characters to have emerged from the world of fiction in recent years. Completely amoral, infinitely and diabolically clever, willing to use her voluptuous body in absolutely any way to achieve her ends, Gold Girl is, perhaps, fiction’s most formidable adversary since Superman...Because Gold Girl’s relations with everyone she met – men and women alike – are heavily weighted with sexual overtones, the film was produced exclusively for adult audiences.

1968

The Gay Underworld
By: Edward D. Wood, Jr.

Pages: 192
Publisher: Viceroy Books, Canoga Park
[According to Rudolph Grey: "Similar to Wood’s Drag Trade of 1967, with several episodes slightly rewritten.
]
1968

The Love of the Dead
By: Edward D. Wood, Jr.
Pseudonym: V. N. Jensen

Pages: 156
Publisher: Viceroy Books, Canoga Park

[Page 66: "The revulsion would last only a short time... Then there must be another dead partner... Soon there would never be the signs of revulsion again... Only hope... and the exercising of his demands."]

1968

The Perverts
By: Edward D. Wood, Jr.
Pseudonym: Jason Nichols

Pages: 160
Publisher: Viceroy Books, Canoga Park

[a proposed socio-cultural study of contemporary perversions and 'deviations', topics include Necrophilia, Troilism, Prostitution, Fetishes, S&M, Bestiality, Homosexuality, Transvestitism, Incest, Lesbianism. Page 52: Man will seek out woman wherever he is – the steaming jungles of the Amazon or the same steaming jungles of his own home town. SEX WILL OUT! And there will always be the whore to take care of his needs. She might be hidden or she might be out in the open. The law will close up her PUSSY for a time, but once she is released the PUSSY will again be open for business. In thinking along the same thoughts the women of the world are also looking for their own whore – THE MALE WHORE! There is a fellow who will sell his body to women for a price. The thoughts even there must go back along the lines of history to the oiled-down frames of the males who were sent to the ruler’s chambers for the night."]

1968

The Sexecutives
By: Edward D. Wood, Jr.
Pseudonym: David L. Westermier

Pages: 160
Publisher: Private Edition Books, Canoga Park

[Cover art may be by Paul Rader, recycled from a lesbian pulp novel. [PROOF?]
[Surrounds a group of sex spies, "Instant Secretaries, Inc." Was later turned into the Foto-Reader For Love Or Money.] excerpt heavily]

1968

The Svengali of Sex
By: Edward D. Wood, Jr.
Pseudonym: Edgar Andrews

Pages: 157
Svengali concerns the exploits of a hypno-therapist, Larry, who gives his hypnotized female patients the full-treatment. Page 111: "Under hypnosis at least, she no longer thought of that. Shirley stood in front of the mirror, turning this way and that to look at herself. The look on her face was one of critical satisfaction. Now she turned to face Larry. "I think you’re right.” Larry got up and joined her at the mirror. Casually he placed his hand around her waist. 'Now Shirley,' he said, ‘can’t you see for yourself that any normal man would certainly like you – almost instantly would want to make love to you?’ Shirley looked up at him but her eyes were on his lips. Softly she said, ‘Would you?’" Page 137: "Larry kissed and sucked her breasts and used his hands on her love triangle and her hot, moist crevice so that in a very few minutes she was moaning and crying in her ecstasy." Photos from a B & B Productions motion picture.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Year</th>
<th>Title</th>
<th>Author</th>
<th>Publisher</th>
<th>Pages</th>
<th>Notes</th>
</tr> </thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>[Rudolph Grey writes: &quot;A homosexual transvestite adapts to prison life, taking the female sex role while absorbing convict philosophy. He winds up the victim of a brutal beating in a filthy alley.&quot;]</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>No year/c. 1969/70</td>
<td>A Study of the Lesbian the Homosexual the Bi-sexual</td>
<td>Edward D. Wood, Jr.</td>
<td>SECS Press, Los Angeles</td>
<td>192</td>
<td>Photo Illustrated (color/b&amp;w) &quot;Sex Education Clinical Series vol. XI&quot;</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Publisher: Barclay House, North Hollywood
A Barclay House Psycho-Sex Study
[Bibliography includes Hollywood Babylon by Kenneth Anger, The Seven Pillars of Wisdom by T. E. Lawrence, and more, as well as many adult books.]

1969 Oralists
By: Edward D. Wood, Jr.
Pseudonym: Spenser and West

Publisher: Tiger Books/Powell Publications, Reseda
[Spenser & West were progressive "sexologists" who wrote based off of "interviews and case histories", Introduction reads: "Oralism is the word that has been kept behind closed doors, hidden under hats and seldom spoken above a whisper. It is scorned by thousands, yet secretly enjoyed by millions and is gaining an ever-increasing circle of aficionados. Why? The hypocrisy intrigued us and we ventured forth into the land of the oralist to find out. Why is he different from other people?"]

1970
A Study of Stag Films
By: Edward D. Wood, Jr.
Pseudonym: S. T. Lee with Dr. T. K. Peters

Publisher: SECS Press, Los Angeles
Photo Illustrated (color/b&w)
"Sex Education Clinical Series vol. XVI"
[Contains glossary of film lingo in back, bibliography, possibly not Ed Wood, book discussions include set design, cinematography, gay films, S&M films, and art films, "'Flaming Creatures' is another example of underground invasion of the stag market. The film’s climactic cunnilingual rape scene is expressed with calculated crudity and very primitive photography." Also discusses Warhol amongst less pretentious pornography. "Maybe a new sexuality is upon us. Sort of a good-natured narcissism in which sex is a public demonstration whose feelings are best relished by the participant s later on...In other words, human confrontation (peace and love) has replaced human copulation. Sex as passion seems almost non-existent."] Gerhson Legman quote

1970
Gay Black
By: Edward D. Wood, Jr.

Publisher: Regency Publishing Co., El Cajon
Reissue of Young, Black and Gay 1970

Sex Swapping
By: Edward D. Wood, Jr.
Pseudonym: Norman Bates

Pages: c. 191
Publisher: Ben's Books Ltd., London
Photo Illustrated (b&w)
[North Hollywood Barclay copyright, UK print]

1970

Adult Version of Dracula
By: Edward D. Wood, Jr.
Pseudonym: Anon.

Pages: 190
Publisher: Calga Publishers, Inc., Los Angeles
(part of Calga's "Adult Versions of the World's Standards", among these advertised were The Escapades of Cleopatra and A Jack London Trilogy. Told in an epistolary fashion via Jonathan Harker's journal, letters, clippings, etc. From Jonathan Harker's journal May 5th (page 33): "My flesh shivered and my hands sank lower. Across her tossing belly and down between her quivering thighs. She arched the mound of her pussy against my hand, pressing the diamond of delight into my palm."]

1971

A Study of Sexual Practices in Witchcraft and Black Magic: Book 1
By: Edward D. Wood, Jr.
Pseudonym: Frank Lennon with Dr. T. K. Peters

Pages: 192
Publisher: SECS Press, Los Angeles
Photo Illustrated (color/b&w)
"Sex Education Clinical Series vol. XVII"
"["From time immemorial, sex and Satanism have been one and the same thing. As you will see in later pages, worship of the devil involves sexual excesses on a scale so large, that the so-called Hollywood sex orgies grow pale by comparison."] off the walls photography and captions – must reproduce

1971

A Study of Sexual Practices in Witchcraft and Black Magic: Book 2
By: Edward D. Wood, Jr.
Pseudonym: Frank Lennon with Dr. T. K. Peters

Pages: 192
Publisher: SECS Press, Los Angeles
Photo Illustrated (color/b&w)
"Sex Education Clinical Series vol. XVIII"
["It is not the purpose of this book to condemn, condone or to accept the Black Arts, but to set forth some facts which have been hidden deep in volumes on shelves of libraries, and hidden even deeper in court records."] off the walls photography and captions – must reproduce

1971

_A Study of The Sexual Man: Book Two_
By: Edward D. Wood, Jr.
Pseudonym: Frank Leonard with Dr. T. K. Peters

Pages: 191
Publisher: SECS Press, Los Angeles
Photo Illustrated (color/b&w)
"Sex Education Clinical Series vol. XXXIII"
["Who is the sexual man? What special qualities does he possess that other men don't have? Can you become a sexual man? These are all questions that this book will answer."]

1971

_A Study of The Sexual Woman: Book Two_
By: Edward D. Wood, Jr.
Pseudonym: Mandy Merrill with Dr. T. K. Peters

Pages: 191
Publisher: SECS Press, Los Angeles
Photo Illustrated (color/b&w)
"Sex Education Clinical Series vol. XXXI"
["Wood and Charles Anderson (Outlaws of the Old West), wrote and directed twelve 8mm films for SECS in 1975" possibly scan photo with captions

1971

_A Study of the Sons and Daughters of Erotica_
By: Edward D. Wood, Jr.
Pseudonym: compiled by Dick Trent with Dr. T. K. Peters

Pages: 192
Publisher: SECS Press, Los Angeles
Photo Illustrated (color/b&w)
"Sex Education Clinical Series vol. XXVIII"
[Akin to EDUSEX, more pornography in the guise of education, ‘...as a pictorial and editorial representation of phases and mores in our contemporary society.’ Most likely SECS was Calga Publishers since they shared the same 5585 W. Pico address. As suggested elsewhere also probably the same as Pendulum. Bibliography includes: Criswell Predicts by Criswell, Black Myth by Trent and Peters (Ed Wood) (listed as Pendulum 1971 in bibliography, listed as SECS 1971 in copy), Glen or Glenda (Wood movie), Satanic Bible by LaVey, and more.]

1971

_A Study of the Swappers_
By: Edward D. Wood, Jr.
Pseudonym: S. T. Lee with Dr. T. K. Peters
Myth
By: Edward D. Wood, Jr.
Pseudonym: Dick Trent with Dr. T. K. Peters

"Sex Education Clinical Series vol. XXII"

"A detailed analysis of the sexual and sociological misinformation surrounding black sexuality." It was suggested by reported ex-Pendulum/Calga writer Leo Eaton, that Dr. T. K. Peters was in fact actually a real card-carrying doctor, his website relays: "Pendulum had bought a serious, boring and excruciatingly long scientific study of sexuality from Dr. T. K. Peters. It was an unpublished manuscript that the doctor had probably labored on for years without finding a buyer (he was a Kinsey-style researcher). I hate to think what he was paid – probably peanuts – but he was very old (semi-senile was the word around the office) and he’d let it go without realizing what use would be made of it. The manuscript gave Berni Bloom a sort of ‘semi-legitimacy’ for the books and magazine articles and we were all encouraged to make use of it whenever and wherever possible. Adding Dr. Peter’s name as co-writer added a spurious legitimacy.”

The Cat’s Urge
By: Edward D. Wood, Jr.
Pseudonym: Elliot Parker Ph.D.,

"Sex Education Clinical Series vol. XXII"

Contains salacious sexological case histories of female abandoning, swapped sex, adulterous behavior, fetishes, and more. Page 24: "The room began to smell like a whorehouse on dollar day. Frantic, hot bodies give off a real musky smell when they’re in a close space. And that apartment was like a closet. Hell, I could have reached out and patted Benny on the butt.” Page 89: "While the majority of housewives enter the forbidden world of animalism out of a profound despair, this is not an iron rule." While much of Wood’s approaches to African-American life are out and out racist, his views of Near Eastern sex practices seem to tend more towards a comical and prurient Orientalism, offensive and ignorant, but tethered to an archetypal Rohmer-esque mythological world of sexist warriors, most certainly inspired by his fascination with the exotic and supernatural. Yet, as opposed to Sax Rohmer, there is little awe and literary elocution to counteract the reductions of the Other.
Rather the notion of a misogynist Arab, painted as a savage and conquering force, is the primary abstraction of the Arab race with Wood. This point of view is apparent during a discussion of Arab sodomy on pages 136-7: "The Arab now straddled the American girl, and then his powerful maleness was at the entranceway. 'It is the way of the East, my little love-slave.' With [sic] that, he invaded.
There was some sphincter tightening. Suddenly a gurgled shriek was heard as the American girl tried to push him off [...] The sex-perverted Arab was now bearing down on her as if she were some animal, some beast. She had always heard that these savage Arabs were like that, but she never knew they were so brutal. Now, a shock wave of pain tore through her narrow receptacle. Suddenly, Ahman erupted in some erotic sounding gibberish. Then, he immersed himself "to the hilt" and there was a stiffening [...]
Ahman’s stiffening was rigid. Then the gushing proof of his peak flooded Valerie’s soul until she was transformed into little more than a sexual slave [...] Wordlessly, he went to the bathroom and washed himself. When he came out, bronzed and naked with his flaccid power a symbol of his superiority, he flashed a grin at her. "This is how we use our women in the East."

1972
Go-Round
By: Edward D. Wood, Jr.

Publisher: Little Library Press, Atlanta
[Similar to Carnival Piece but more explicit as LLP tended to be.]

1973
Diary of a Transvestite Hooker
By: Edward D. Wood, Jr.
Pseudonym: Randy, as told to Dick Trent

Publisher: Eros Publishing Co., Wilmington, Del.
Photo Illustrated (b&w)
[an Eros Goldstripe production, a telling of escapades in the life of transvestite hooker, told in the pictorial style.
Page 173: "Summation – One might ask the question:
‘Why the life of a prostitute?’ of any number of prostitutes and there would be just as many, individually different answers...but their answers might not be considered true answers by the sociologists, sexologists and psychiatrists, because the girls themselves don’t have any true answers for themselves and why they first decided upon the profession. But the answers they give have some measure of truth, because those answers are what they believe."
Page 177: "Thus it is with whores who would also like to glamorize their profession...and make a lot of money from their books in doing so...there is always a ready market for the lurid stories they reveal...imagined or otherwise...a madam, or working prostitute wrote it, therefore everything she says must be true...she lived through it. The public as well as the publisher will savor this type of material. If they were to paint their profession and what they did as some sort of dirty episode in history, then they themselves must have been dirty. Therefore...picture me pink..."

1973
Outlaws of the Old West
By: Charles D. Anderson (ed.), Edward D. Wood, Jr. (contrib.)

Publisher: Mankind Publishing Company, Los Angeles
Illustrated (photo/drawing)
The Mankind Series of Great Adventures of History
["Selected Readings By Mankind Magazine", contains the story "Pearl Hart and the Last Stage". Non-pornographic work in the Western genre. Tells the tale of Pearl Hart, a girl who dressed as a boy and became a famous stagecoach robber. Page 232: "She would have still been in the boys clothes she wore during the robbery, bedraggled form those days in the sale and the elements of the weather, frightened to death of the crowd which she faced." Page 234: "Although Joe Boot slipped quickly into obscurity shortly after Sheriff Truman brought the outlaw pair into Florence, the pistol and rifle-toting Pearl was just beginning to live, to be recognized, and to find her place in history. And what she didn’t conjure up in her own mind was created by the newspaper accounts of her daring adventure into the badman’s territory. Altogether, these made her break out in the cold sweats of fame." Page 235: "She had a year of ecstatic glory with the cheers of the public ringing in her ears. And then night after night the audience became thinner and thinner. The fickle public soon tires of even its most important heroes."]

1973
Tales for a Sexy Night Vol. 2
By: Chuck Kelly (ed.)

Publisher: Gallery Press, Los Angeles
Illustrated by Neil Weisbecker
[contains stories by Edw. D. Wood, Jr., "Final Curtain", "To Kill a Saturday Night" (this one is a Beckett-esque masterpiece, should be excerpted), "Craps", and "Calamity Jane Loves Hosenose Kate Loves Cattle Anne". Also includes a contribution from collaborator Charles D. Anderson.]
1977

TV Lust
By: Edward D. Wood, Jr.
Pseudonym: Dick Trent

Pages: 180
Publisher: Eros Publishing Co., Wilmington, Del.
Photo Illustrated (b&w)

Transexual Library
Written a year before his death, Hayes describes "The rigors of writing smut were definitely telling on Wood at this point. The rehashed plot of the transvestite hitman certainly wasn’t original this time around, and the usual colorful characters are almost nonexistent. The flair that made some of his other novels and films bearable, even through a thin plot and the strange grammar, was noticeably absent from TV Lust. It seems as though Ed Wood had finally given up." Page 40: "Chris slipped into the fur-like coat, and he was ready for his first walk on the street in girl’s clothes... he was elated nearly to the point of exploding...Chris mixed another pitcher of martinis and this time had poured a double before he went back to the big chair. The pistol lay on the floor near the attaché case. He liked the idea of the fur coat on the bed, it was going to be just as cold that night as it had been that October so long ago.”

1995

Let Me Die in Drag
By: Edward D. Wood, Jr.

Pages: 172
Publisher: Gorse, London
[modern reprint of Pad Library’s Let Me Die in Drag]

Series II. Magazines and Other Published Material

1953
"Glen or Glenda?", movie poster
Mapcase Z-17

1971
Undergraduate", movie poster
Mapcase Z-17

1968 in Films No. 1
Box 3 Folder 1

Includes an image taken from "For Love and Money"

Feb. 1969
Vol. 13 No. 8
Box 3 Folder 2

Includes the article "Guilding The Ghouls" discussing the "ghoulie flick"

Aug./Sept. 1971

Includes "A Nation of Peepers" by Norman Bates (pseudonym)
Includes "The Day the Mummy Returned" by Edward D. Wood, Jr.

Aug./Sept. 1971

*um Vol. 3 No. 3

Includes "Into My Grave" by Edward D. Wood, Jr.

Aug./Sept. 1971

*Vol. 5 No. 3

Includes "The Night the Banshee Cried" by Edward D. Wood, Jr.

Nov./Dec. 1971

*utton Vol. 2 No. 3

Includes "The Wave Off" by Edward D. Wood, Jr.

Includes "Sex and the Future" by Norman Bates (pseudonym)

Jan. 1972

* Sex Tales Vol. 1 No. 1

Includes "Hellfire" by Edward D. Wood, Jr.

Includes "Scream Your Bloody Head Off" by Edward D. Wood, Jr.

Includes "The Rue Morgue Re-visited: by Dick Trent (pseudonym)

Includes "Witches of Amau Ra" by Dick Trent (pseudonym)

Includes "Bums Rush Terror" by Ann Gora (pseudonym)

Mar./Apr. 1972

*m-Up Vol. 2 No. 1

Includes "'You Gotta' Have A Fetish 'You Gotta' Have A Gimmick'" by Ann Gora (pseudonym)

Apr./May 1972

*ec Vol. 4 No. 2

Includes "The Responsibility Game" by Dick Trent (pseudonym)

July/Aug. 1972

*nd Soul Vol. 6 No. 2

Includes "Scene of the Crime" by Edward D. Wood, Jr.

Includes "What Would We Have Done Without Them?" by Edward D. Wood, Jr.

July/Aug. 1972

* Sex Tales Vol. 1 No. 1

Includes "Ant Hell" by Alvin Tostig (pseudonym)

Includes "News Read-Out" edited by Norman Bates
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Date</th>
<th>Magazine</th>
<th>Volume</th>
<th>Issue</th>
<th>Box</th>
<th>Folder</th>
</tr> </thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Aug./Sept. 1972</td>
<td>Sex Tales</td>
<td>Vol. 1 No. 1</td>
<td></td>
<td>Box 3</td>
<td>Folder 12</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sept./Oct. 1972</td>
<td>Gary Sex Tales</td>
<td>Vol. 1 No. 1</td>
<td></td>
<td>Box 3</td>
<td>Folder 13</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Sept./Oct. 1972</td>
<td>Orgy</td>
<td>Vol. 4 No. 2</td>
<td></td>
<td>Box 3</td>
<td>Folder 14</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Jan./Feb. 1973</td>
<td>Orgy</td>
<td>Vol. 5 No. 1</td>
<td></td>
<td>Box 3</td>
<td>Folder 15</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Jan./Feb. 1973</td>
<td>Hellcats</td>
<td>Vol. 2 No. 1</td>
<td></td>
<td>Box 3</td>
<td>Folder 16</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Jan./Feb. 1973</td>
<td>Swap</td>
<td>Vol. 7 No. 1</td>
<td></td>
<td>Box 3</td>
<td>Folder 17</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>June/July 1973</td>
<td>Turn On</td>
<td>Vol. 2 No. 3</td>
<td></td>
<td>Box 3</td>
<td>Folder 18</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>May/June 1975</td>
<td>Body and Soul</td>
<td>Vol. 8 No. 1</td>
<td></td>
<td>Box 3</td>
<td>Folder 19</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

(pseudonym)

Includes "Castle of Dracula" by Chester Winfield (probable pseudonym)

Includes "The Voyage of Dracula" by Roy Hemp (probable pseudonym)

Includes "Lust of the Vampire" by Dudley McDonly (probable pseudonym)

Includes "Cleopatra's Sex Slave" by Dudley McDonly (probable pseudonym)

Includes "The Core of Vampire" by Ann Gora (pseudonym)

Includes "Slap It To 'Em" by Dick Trent (pseudonym)

Includes "A Taste of Blood" by Edward D. Wood, Jr.

Includes "Seek and Ye Shall Find" by Dick Trent (pseudonym)

Includes "Trade Secrets" by Shirlee Lane (pseudonym)

Includes "Lesbian Understanding" by Ann Gora (pseudonym)

Includes "The Divorcee's Problem" by Ann Gora (pseudonym)

Includes "Why a Prostitute's Life" by Dick Trent (pseudonym)

Includes "What Would We Have Done Without Them?" by Edward D. Wood, Jr.
Includes "Scene of the Crime" by Edward D. Wood, Jr.

1975?

Body and Soul Annual

Includes "The Home Scene" by Edward D. Wood, Jr.

Includes "Scene of the Crime" by Edward D. Wood, Jr.

Includes "What Would We Have Done Without Them?" by Edward D. Wood, Jr.

Includes "The Sport of Bored Lovers" by Norman Bates (pseudonym)

Dec. 1976

Ace Vol. 21 No. 6

Includes "Sheep in Wolf's Clothing" by Edward Wood

Includes "How Erotica Turns Her On" by William P. Evans (pseudonym)

June 1998

Femme Fatales Vol. 7 No. 1

Includes "Orgy of the Dead Ed Wood's Post-"Plan 9" Legacy: Bonding Spirits and Strippers-in Color!" by Laura Schiff

1999

Outre No. 16

Includes "From Ed Wood to Elvis! The Incredible Saga of Dolores Fuller" by Greg Douglas

Includes "Hollywood Rat Race! How to Make a Cheap Picture and Fail" by Ed Wood, Jr.

Series III. Exhibition Material

Outs

I magazine

dy of Censorship, Sex, and the Movies bk.2

dy of Sexual Practices and Witchcraft v.1 and v.2

dy of Stag Films

sutton Magazine and Soul Magazine

ey Broadie

dr Glenda
The following materials have been separated from the collection. Some may have been cataloged individually:

A Study of Fetishes & Fantasies
By: Edward D. Wood, Jr.
Pseudonym: Norman Bates & Dick Trent
Location: Human Sexuality HQ57.3 .W77 1973
Pages: 191 Published: 1971
[indicative of the fast and loose publishing culture: though the outer boards attribute the book to Wood & Bates, inside title page attributes "by Norman Bates & Dick Trent". Bibliography of this "educational" book cites a myriad of sources including Freud, Krafft-Ebing, Stekel, and Theodore Sturgeon.]

A Study in the Motivation of Censorship, Sex & The Movies: Book I
By: Edward D. Wood, Jr.
Location: Human Sexuality PN1995.9.S45 S89 1973 bk.1
Pages: 190 Published: 1973
[the EDUSEX Press imprint under Gallery was similar to SECS in that in provided an educational guise for pornography that made it exempt from obscenity prosecution, this "study" in particular allowed Wood to flex his knowledge of the film world. Preface reads: "The President’s Commission on Obscenity and Pornography has found that the law ‘is not the only or necessarily the most effective way’ to deal with pornography. The report recommends a massive and extensive sex education program to blunt the American’s taste for smut and to forge an informed public consensus on the problem."]

A Study in the Motivation of Censorship, Sex & The Movies: Book II
By: Edward D. Wood, Jr.
Location: Human Sexuality PN1995.9.S45 S89 1973 bk.2
Pages: 191 Published: 1973
[sequel to Censorship, Sex, & The Movies: Book 1]